Salish Sea Stories: Understanding Orca and Salmon Survival

The survival of our local Southern Resident Orca whales is a complex problem that requires broad citizen understanding and engagement. This talk will review the history of the region’s salmon, orca and human relationships, and the actions we must do to keep the region’s iconic beings from reaching extinction.

Fort Worden State Park

Talk about Forts & WA State Parks - Preservation and Play

Hidden gun emplacements, expansive parade lawns and restored Victorian-era Officer homes place history front and center at Fort Worden Historical State Park. While today’s park hosts workshops, festivals and family events, the Fort Worden of 100 years ago was home to nearly 1,000 troops and officers, training to defend Puget Sound from potential enemy invaders. Learn more during this talk given by park staff, beach goers who grew up at the Fort, and others. https://waparks.org/your-parks/virtual-tours/fort-worden-state-park/
