

FORGOTTEN FORTS:

Documenting Time through Poems and Photography
for A Different Kind of War

Sunday, November 12, 2-3:30pm
Federal Way Library

Artist-photographer Kathy Fridstein and poet Kelli Russell Agodon have collaborated and created “visual poetry” of the forgotten history of Fort Worden, Fort Casey and Fort Flagler.

Kathy will describe her photography project, which captures these abandoned forts and the rich landscape and history while Kelli reads several of her poems which were created in response to the photographs, the soldiers who were stationed there and what it is like to be there now - all juxtaposed with the current affairs of our country.

Kelli Russell Agodon’s poetry books will be available for purchase and signing.

The exhibit of photographs and poems will be on display at the Federal Way Library, November 8, 2017 - February 7, 2018.

Kathy Fridstein is a Seattle based artist-photographer and graphic designer. Her work is represented in the Washington State Public Art Collection and she was one of three artists prominently featured in the show “Altered Images” at the Seattle Art Museum.
