A trusted partner for the last 8 years, Signal worked with the PDA, Fort Worden Partners, State Parks, and community stakeholders over a 12 month listening process that involved programming interviews, surveys, and workshops to develop a Program Development Plan. That process led to the design of Makers Square with the redevelopment of Buildings 305, 308, and 324 and 7-acres of site and infrastructure improvements to advance the mission of the Lifelong Learning Center.

Signal is a design studio that weaves architecture, interiors, planning, and strategy together to create spaces and places of meaning that connect people to their place in the world.

Their relationship with clients and communities becomes a partnership, where vision and pragmatism are intertwined. Their research based process balances function and environment with long term vision.

MILENKO MATANOVIC

As a leader in the field of healthy democratic processes, Milenko has become a trusted advisor and mentor in collaboration and community engagement.

He focuses on collaborative planning, design workshops and creative placemaking, guiding leaders to improve their community engagement skills, and rebuilding trust between groups.

His body of work is dedicated to improving livability, sustainability, environmental health and social vibrancy.

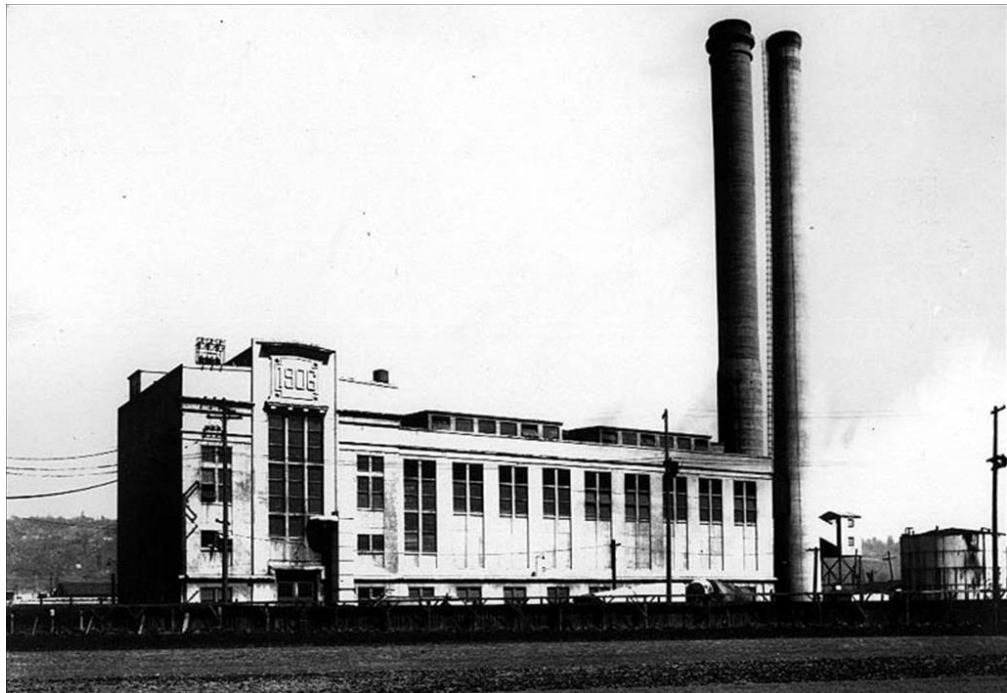

ECONorthwest
ECONOMICS • FINANCE • PLANNING

Founded in 1974, ECONorthwest is the Pacific Northwest's largest and most respected economic consulting firm. Key to the firm's longevity has been its reputation for high-quality, objective research.

ECONorthwest has completed thousands of studies for public and private-sector clients, offering economic perspectives on a variety of issues with insightful, rigorous analyses to strengthen policy and investment decisions.

We have worked for client organizations with diverse interests and perspectives: business management and labor unions; conservationists and energy companies; public planning departments and private developers.
